There are several hundred towns in this country whose development is retarded by lack of capital and skilled labor.

There are thousands of good opportunities for investment going a begging.

There are five cities which have a surplus of capital and skilled labor, and each has a newspaper read by every intelligent capitalist and workman in that city. Here they are:

New York, . . .	The Sun
Boston, . . .	The Globe.
Providence, . . .	The Journal.
Philadelphia, . . .	The Press.
Pittsburgh, . . .	The Despatch.

An outlay of a few hundred dollars for reading matter advertising will put the condition of any promising young town or enterprise before the readers of these five papers (circulation, half a million; number of readers, over two millions).

For more information on this subject apply to

R. Wayne Wilson and Company,
211, 212, 213 Temple Court,

Every experienced merchant knows that his first business letters were pretty poor stuff. The epistolary models he now dictates are the result of years of constant practice. Yet, because he does write perfect business communications, it by no means follows that he can write a good advertisement or circular. That is an art acquired after steady work, only by those who have a special talent for it. It is money saved to employ an expert to do writing of this kind, as any merchant may prove, when next about to advertise or issue a circular, by applying to

The Central Railroad of New Jersey

IN CONNECTION WITH

THE READING RAILROAD SYSTEM,

Royal Blue Line to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

MOUNTAIN, LAKE AND SEASHORE.

BEST IN COMFORT. BEST IN SPEED. BEST IN SAFETY.

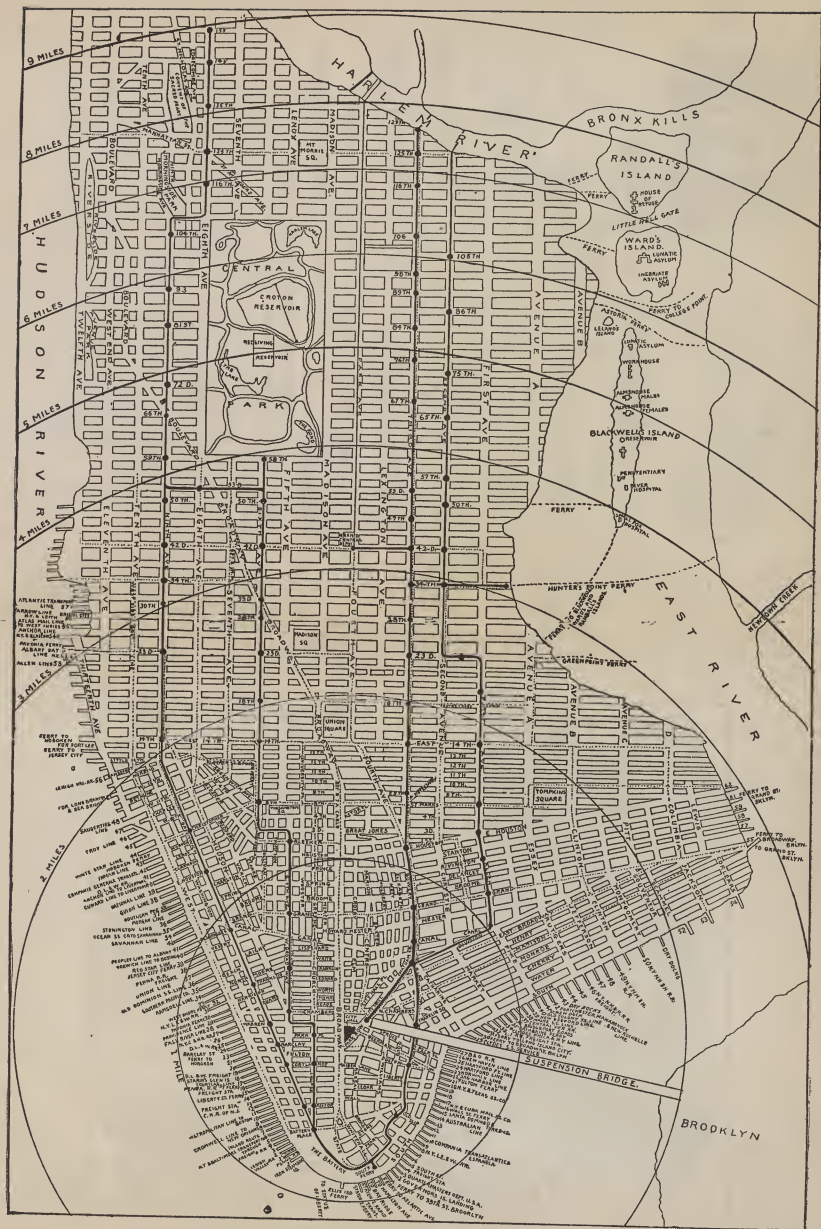

THIS System of Roads embodies a greater diversity in its ramifications than perhaps any American railway. The traveler can, by this perfectly equipped system, visit all prominent points on the New Jersey seacoast from Sandy Hook and Atlantic City, all parts of Central New Jersey, the Valley of the Lehigh, through the Coal Regions of Pennsylvania and the Wyoming Valley by the magnificently managed Central Railroad of New Jersey. To NIAGARA FALLS and the Great Lakes no line offers such picturesque beauties as the Great Lehigh Valley Division of the Reading Railroad System, to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, aptly named the "Scenic Route of America." By this route the traveler passes through the beautiful Valley of the Lehigh, and the famed Anthracite Coal Regions of Pennsylvania.

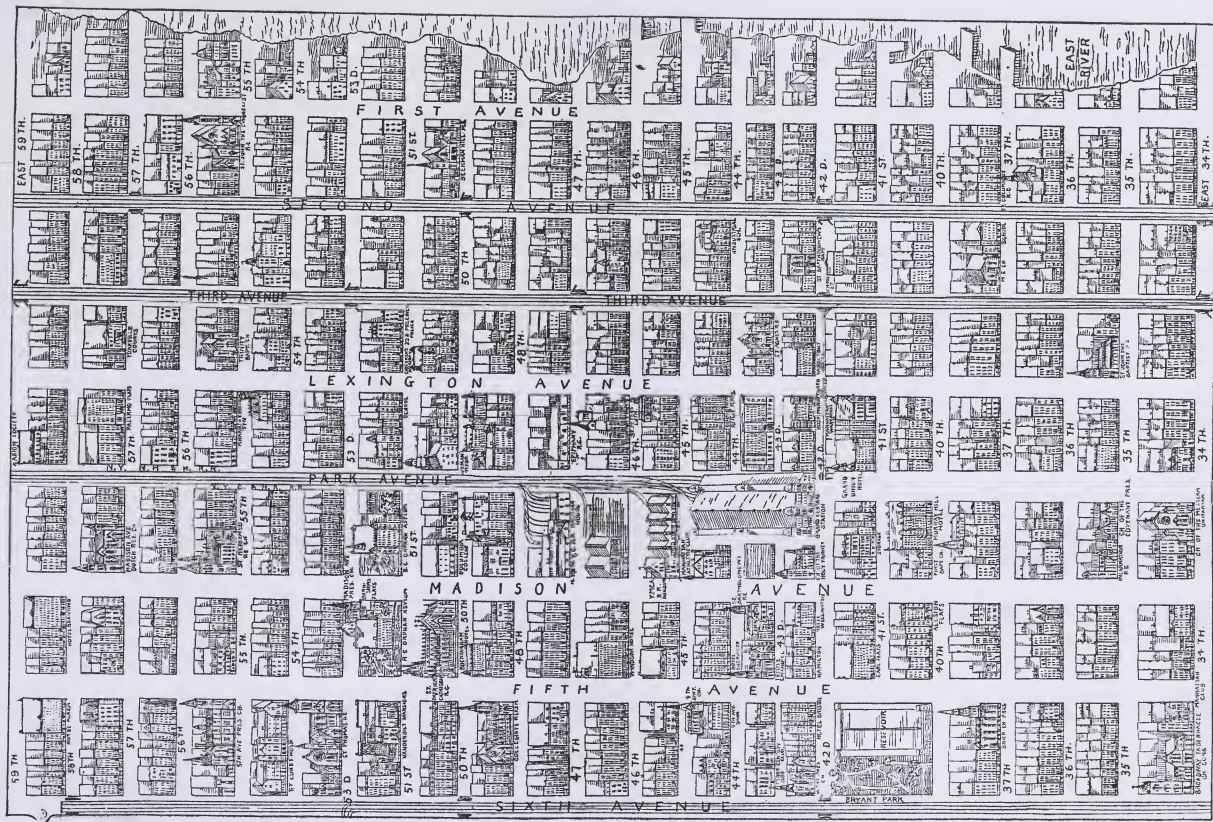

To the Nation's Capital, the Royal Blue Line offers the fastest and most sumptuously furnished trains in America. Five hours between New York and Washington is the time consumed daily by the trains of the Royal Blue Line, the passenger being assured of equally quick service to Philadelphia and Baltimore.

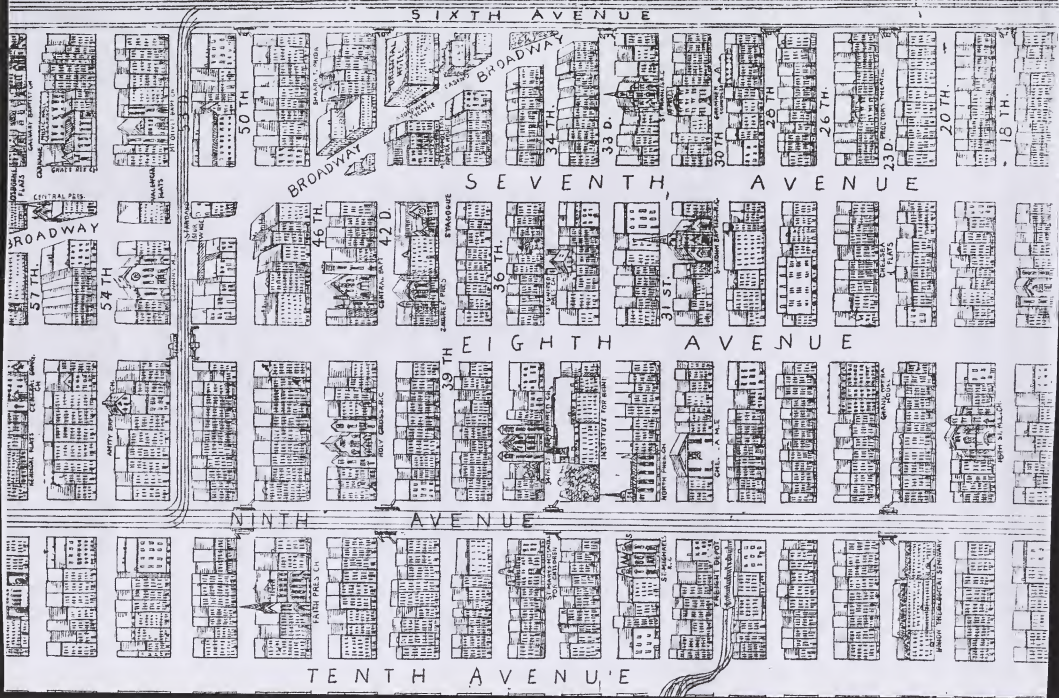

The block system in use insures safety, and the rock ballasted road-bed, with smokeless engines and modern coaches afford that comfort which is characteristic of this great trunk line. All trains leave New York from Ferry, foot of Liberty Street, North River.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Lehigh Valley Railroad, the Philadelphia and Reading R. R., and the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. trains leave from the commodious station of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, at Communipaw, Jersey City.

Time Tables are found in all the New York City papers, and in all public places in New York and Brooklyn.
